Bid for wheels to reach rural residents

Food bank plans to hit the road

• Jo Cypher, 41

By Alex Ballinger

A WEST Oxfordshire food bank is hoping to go mobile in order to help disadvantaged residents in the district by delivering food parcels door to door.

Oxfordshire West Foodbank was set up in 2012 and its organisers are now hoping to help people living in rural areas.

Jo Cypher, 41, set up the food bank three years ago after she was left alone with two children and one on the way, struggling to pay bills.

She said: "It started about fifteen years ago when my ex-husband left me with two young children.

"I was left surviving on child benefit for 18 weeks. I'd never claimed any benefits before so I didn't know what to do.

"I've now been in a stable relationship for eight years and I wanted to do something for myself other than being a full time mum."

Mrs Cypher, now a mum-of-four, said she contacted a food bank in Oxford about volunteering but instead decided to set one up for West Oxfordshire residents.

She is aiming to raise £1,500 to convert a van for her to transport food parcels to vulnerable people,

Mrs Cypher hopes to have the scheme up and running by summer 2016.

Council split over devolution debate

By Alex Ballinger

OXFORDSHIRE County Council (OCC) has found itself split after debating the devolution of powers and money from government to local authorities at a meeting on Tuesday.

A devolution deal would see Oxfordshire's six councils work together to gain greater decision-making power over areas including transport, housing and health, and their interest in the scheme was submitted to government in September.

• Cllr John Tanner

A debate on devolution was held at the full council meeting in County Hall, New Road in Oxford on Tuesday where councillors from all parties shared their opinions.

Liberal Democrat councillor Anne Purse said: "This is presumably somebody's idea of a brave new Oxford.

"There is no heart in this report. We're talking about skills. We're not talking about education. We're not talking about sustainable energy. We're not talking about quality of life.

"It's not an Oxfordshire I'd like to see."

A report was presented to the council written by the leader Ian Hudspeth.

In the report he said: "There is a strong rationale for an Oxfordshire [devolution] deal because of the alignment of the local economy and public service providers and our strong joint working arrangements. "

Included in the proposals are four main themes including delivering infrastructure quicker, better funding for skilled workers and tackling the housing shortage.

Conservative councillor Judith Heathcoat said: "Devolution will ensure there will be a simpler service in health.

"We have to ensure the current financial situation health is in is stabilised. It will allow for a streamlined service for the people of Oxfordshire."

Labour councillor John Tanner said: "What we're talking about here is not devolution. What we're talking about is centralisation.

"This will end up with less power for local government and less democracy."

At the meeting the council were recommended to note the report and to consider the possible implications of devolution.

The report stated the next step is likely to be discussion with ministers.

Dramatic warning film for young drivers

FIREFIGHTERS in Oxfordshire have launched a dramatic new presentation in an bid to reduce the number of car crashes involving young drivers.

Safe Drive Stay Alive is to be shown at the Kings Centre, Osney Mead in Oxford on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and will feature footage from a crash in the local area.

Oxfordshire County Council has said more than 25 per cent of all road casualties in the county last year involved a driver between the ages of 17 and 24.

The Fire and Rescue Service's road safety manager Mick Clarke said: "More than 95 per cent of all road casualties come as a result of human error, meaning someone got something wrong.

"Sometimes it can be lack of experience but it may be due to poor choices the driver has made.

"Choices such as driving a bit too fast for the road conditions, driving with alcohol or drugs inside them, or being distracted by smart phones."

The campaign is run by the fire service and the Road Safety Education Team in a partnership that started 10 years ago.

Housing plan

NORTH OXON: Weston on the Green is deciding to pursue a neighbourhood development plan following approval from Cherwell District Council's executive board on Monday.

The parish council of the village south of Bicester has previously submitted an application to the executive board.

Neighbourhood plans allow communities to decide the future of where houses and buildings can be built in their area and what they should look like.

Bookies theft

WITNEY: A man stole money after jumping over the counter of a bookmaker in Corn Street on Saturday.

At around 6.55pm the man stole the money from Stan James bookmakers and left.

The offender is described as short, black, and was wearing a beanie style hat, blue top, black trousers and black shoes.

He and two other men are believed to have been drinking around the town centre and visited another betting shop during the evening.

Investigating officer Det Insp Steve Raffield said: "This was a frightening experience for the member of staff and Thames Valley Police investigations incidents of this kind thoroughly.

"I would appeal to anyone who may have witnessed this incident or who may have any information about it to contact police."

Number of empty shops in town halve

WHITE Horse District Council has announced good news for shoppers in Abingdon as the number of empty shops in the town has halved in the last year.

The Vale's annual retail vacancy survey revealed on Tuesday found 4.4 per cent of Abingdon's shops are empty, compared with 8.8 per cent last year.

Leader of the council Matthew Barber said: "This is excellent news for Abingdon in particular, and good news for all of our residents across the district.

"We've been working hard to promote all of our towns as a thriving place for local entrepreneurs to set up shop, as well as getting national companies to come along to help provide a great mix of choice on the high street for our residents.

"We've been working really closely with the town council and local chambers of commerce and everybody can be proud of this success."

The review said Wantage has stayed the same with less than four per cent of units empty.

Faringdon's empty shops increased from 3.1 per cent to 7.7 per cent.

All three towns are lower than the national average of 12.9 per cent.

Oxfordshire leader backing activist in UK-wide election

THE leader of Witney's Conservative Party youth group vowed to 'put the fun back into the Conservative Future' as he launched his bid to become the head of the UK's Conservative youth branch.

By Alex Ballinger

Liam Walker officially started his campaign to become chairman of the Tory youth group for under 30s, called Conservative Future, on Sunday.

As part of his bid the 25-year-old pledged to organise an annual conference for the group.

And he has gained the support of Oxfordshire County Council leader Ian Hudspeth.

Mr Walker said: "I want people to have fun. Politics all seems to be just about the serious side. There needs to be an increase in the number of social events."

Conservative Future is the largest youth political organisation in the UK with over 15,000 members country-wide.

With his three-year term as chairman of the Witney branch of the youth organisation soon to end Mr Walker said standing for the national position was the next logical step.

He added: "I was nervous on Sunday before I announced it but now it's just a relief.

"I want to get people involved and to make a difference.

"I look forward to the campaign and to meeting as many members of the Conservative Future as possible.

"Despite winning the general election the Conservative Party faces many challenges in the coming months and years.

"It is my hope that Conservative Future will be at the forefront of meeting these challenges head on."

The election is to be held some time after the party review in March, but no date has yet been set.

Councillor Hudspeth said: "I think he would make an ideal chairman.

"His passion has really helped massively in campaigns.

"During the General Election campaign he worked tirelessly across the country and he went on several road trips.

"Conservative Future shows we do attract young people and young people are engaging with Conservative ideas."

Voting will be open to party members under 30 through an online ballot.

Food bank has handed out up to 3,000 parcels

• From front page

So far £500 has been raised with the help of the TSB bank in Witney's High Street contributing £400 so far this year.

The food bank now operates out of Cottsway House in Avenue Two, Station Lane and Mrs Cypher believes they have given between 2,500 and 3,000 food parcels to struggling residents.

Mrs Cypher added: "I was thinking of ways of getting out to these people in rural areas.

"It's not just young people we get, it's families and older people too."

Witney MP and Prime Minister David Cameron appeared on ITV's This Morning show on Monday faced with questions about not coming into contact with disadvantaged people.

Mr Cameron said: "I'm a constituency MP. I have people to my surgery talking about their problems, their circumstances, how we can help."

West Oxfordshire district councillor Duncan Enright backed Mrs Cypher's scheme.

He said: " I first heard about it over the summer. I think a lot of people will find it useful in West Oxfordshire.

"We know there are people stuck out in rural areas.

"If David Cameron knows it about it why isn't he doing anything?

"This government are not doing enough to tackle inequality."

Mrs Cypher said she was surprised to find such a need for food banks in West Oxfordshire.

She said: "I was very surprised when I started doing research. There are a lot of vulnerable people. We have a lot of families that have fallen on hard times."

Mr Cameron previously visited Oxfordshire West Foodbank and Mrs Cypher said he did not bring a donation.

Mr Cameron's office did not respond to the Guardian's request for a comment.

Oxfordshire's Blenheim Palace to remain open all year round

OXFORDSHIRE'S historic World Heritage Site Blenheim Palace will be open all year bar Christmas Day from next year.

It will open on February 13 and remain open to the public.

The Palace has opened on a seasonal basis each year since its opening on April 1 in 1950 but has previously closed for the winter to allow staff to have 'an annual deep clean'.

John Hoy, the Palace's chief executive, said: "I am pleased to announce Blenheim Palace is extending its opening season to all year round from 2016."

It will give visitors an exciting opportunity to enjoy the palace throughout the festive season and allow us to add new events and winter activities to our calendar."

Blenheim Palace was originally opened to the public by John Spencer-Churchill, 10th Duke of Marlborough and the home has been the ancestral seat of the Duke of Marlborough for 300 years.

It was opened to raise funds for the Palace's upkeep, restoration and future preservation.

The Palace hosts a range of activities throughout the year such as concerts and the three-day Blenheim Horse Trials every September.

The annual deep clean of the palace will continue in January and early February as usual but the palace will remain open.

Ex-UKIP candidate died after bad fall

By Alex Ballinger

A DIDCOT man and former UKIP candidate died after falling and banging his head at a neurological rehab centre in Harwell, an inquest heard on Tuesday.

Bruce Alexander Hay, 63, of Worcester Drive, died at Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital on May 3 after being found lying in a courtyard of the Orchard House Rehabilitation Centre 10 days earlier.

Senior coroner Darren Salter ruled during the inquest at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court in New Road that Mr Hay's death was an accident caused by the fall.

He said: "It may well be, though it can't be proven, that there may have been a seizure before the fall.

"The fall was an accident."

A statement from team coordinator at Orchard House, Claire Lukeman, was read out during the inquest.

Ms Lukeman said prior to the fall Mr Hay visited nearby shops and she had no reason to worry about him falling over.

In the statement she said: "I didn't think he'd fallen until I saw him bleeding.

"He was so independent. I didn't expect that."

Mr Hay was found on the floor of the courtyard of Orchard House on April 23 and was rushed to the John Radcliffe Hospital.

It was not made clear at the inquest why he was staying at the rehabilitation centre.

Coroner Darren Salter said: "Just a fall that lead to a serious head injury.

"He fell in the courtyard area while walking and sustained a head injury.

"Despite treatment he deteriorated and died."

Manager of Orchard House James Stalker said: "I had no reason to be concerned about Bruce.

"Bruce does not require one to one care.

"Its perfectly normal for him to be outside."

Mr Hay had previously stood as the UK Independence Party parliamentary candidate for Reading West in 2010 but did not stand in the 2015 election.

Uni loses appeal against park anti-begging order

By Loughlan Campbell

COUNCILLORS have rebuffed attempts by the University of Oxford to change the borders of controversial new rules that make aggressive begging and other behaviours punishable by £100 fines.

Oxford City Council's scrutiny committee stood by the new measures on Monday which were passed by the council's City Executive Board last month.

The measures, called the Public Spaces Protection Order (PSPO) will give the council the power to issue warnings and £100 penalties.

The order applies to Oxford's city centre, and the university had opposed it including public land they owned, notably University Parks, land next to Parks Road and also Christ Church meadow.

City councillor and member of the scrutiny committee, Roy Darke, said: "What we were concerned with about the university's appeal is that if we removed University Parks from the order, then it would act as a form of displacement and the behaviours would then be demonstrated there.

"We don't want to use these orders unless we absolutely have to, it acts more of a safety net for us."

Councillors debated for over 45 minutes, before seven voted against five on changing the boundaries of the PSPO.

Liberty, a human rights organisation based in London, called in June for the council to scrap the 'unlawful' plans, which it said 'criminalises homeless people and buskers'.

The group's letter delayed the decision but the council backed its plans with a report published in September.

Rosie Brighouse, lawyer for Liberty, a London-based human rights organisation, said: "While we're pleased with Oxford City Council's concessions, it shouldn't have taken Liberty and other campaigners to force them to see how draconian and disproportionate their initial proposals were.

"Even with those concessions, we remain deeply concerned that the PSPO will criminalise the city's most vulnerable."

Ms Brighouse added Liberty is considering whether to challenge the order in court.

Oxford City Council leader, Bob Price said: "There is a six-week period which starts from now in which there is a chance for the order to be contested in high court.

"If no-one challenges the order than we will look to implement it in the city starting from the New Year."

A PSPO can be in force for any period up to a maximum of three years.

Couple's nine half marathons for cancer victim

A HUSBAND and wife have completed nine half marathons in eight months to raise money for a charity launched in memory of an Abingdon boy.

Paul and Gayle Bullivant from Booth Graffoe in Lincoln have run 117.9m over the last eight months raising £2,536 for childhood brain tumour charity, Blue Skye Thinking.

They began the 38-hour effort in March at the Silverstone half marathon and have since run half marathons in Bosworth, Rugby, Windsor, Maidenhead, Windsor, Peterborough and the Water of Life half marathon along the River Thames from Marlow to Henley.

Blue Skye Thinking was set up by Sally and Andrew Hall in July last year in memory of their five-year-old son Skye who died from side effects from treatment of aggressive and cancerous brain tumour medulloblastoma.

Mum-of-two Gayle said they were inspired by a friend's daughter Grace who also died from treatment-related complications for a medulloblastoma brain tumour.

Gayle added: "It was a real challenge at times, but we just kept together on every one and got through it."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

'The truthis that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. Tolkien map on sale in Oxford for £60,000

A RECENTLY discovered map of Lord of the Ring's author JRR Tolkien's fantasy world of Middle Earth is on display in Oxford on sale for £60,000.

The map was found loose in a copy of a Lord of The Rings book that belonged to the late illustrator Pauline Baynes.

Tolkien's annotations also reveal Oxford is at the same latitude as Hobbiton, home of Lord of the Rings hero Frodo.

It is on display at bookshop Blackwells in Broad Street.

Modern first editions specialist Henry Gott said: "The piece is an exciting and important discovery: new to scholarship, it demonstrates the care exercised by both in their mapping of Tolkien's creative vision. Before going on display in the shop this week, this had only ever been in private hands."

The map also suggests the city of Ravenna in Italy inspired the city of Minas Tirith – a key location in the final book in the Lord of the Rings trilogy.

Abingdon traders form Oxfordshire's first BID

By Alex Ballinger

BUSINESS owners and councillors have voted in favour of Abingdon town centre becoming Oxfordshire's first Business Improvement District (BID).

The results of a month-long poll were announced on Friday, revealing 58 per cent (86) of the 148 votes cast were 'yes' and 38 per cent (56) were 'no', with six void votes.

The scheme will see traders in the town pay into a pot from next April, to raise almost £800,000 in the town over five years to fund projects to improve the town centre.

The Abingdon BID executive board will meet in the coming weeks to discuss plans to increase town centre footfall.

Free Wi-Fi and electronic parking signs in the Charter multi-storey car park have been suggested as two possibilities in their business plan.

The vote ran from October 2 until last Thursday.

Chairman of the Abingdon BID group and owner of Dream Doors in Stert Street, Mike Hurley, said: "I was elated and relieved at the same time.

• Abingdon BID group's executive board

"It's something Abingdon needs and its great news. The BID represents a really bright future for Abingdon and by all the businesses in town working together, we will be able to achieve great things for the town with this investment over the next five years."

Mr Hurley added the BID group is in talks with Vale of White Horse District Council to secure an advance on cash so they can start projects before the traders' cash contributions come in from April.

He added: "If there is a local service that provides what we're looking for they'll get first dibs."

Mr Hurley went on to say that, negotiations pending, some of the free options in the business plan could be implemented before April, including making parking in the town free after 3pm.

The Abingdon BID will officially launch as a limited company on April 1 next year and its board of volunteer directors will be made up of leaders from businesses in the district.

But the BID has come under fire from the 'no' campaign.

Their anonymous comment said: "A winning margin of only 24 votes, with councils making up 27 'yes' votes, shows that the businesses themselves did stand together and vote 'no'.

"This tax has therefore been forced upon both the residents and businesses of Abingdon by the councils.

"We hope you can achieve all of the goals that are proposed. Remember this is our money that you are spending, we will be watching you."

Leader of Vale of White Horse District Council, Matthew Barber said: "This is really good news for Abingdon – at the council we'll continue to invest and work to promote the town as a great place for businesses to locate, but now they've got the extra benefit of the local businesses investing in the town.

"We've just released figures showing the number of empty shops in the town has halved in the past year, so with the Business Improvement District Abingdon can go from strength to strength."

Abingdon Town Council leader Sandy Lovatt said: "It is fantastic result for the town and it gives the traders an independent source of funding support to promote Abingdon's economy."

Lewis to solve final crime in series' end

By Loughlan Campbell

OXFORD-BASED TV crime drama 'Lewis' is set to bow out this month after nearly 10 years of case solving.

The detective series broadcaster ITV confirmed on Monday stars Kevin Whately (Robbie Lewis) and Laurence Fox (James Hathaway) have decided to retire from the show.

The series, which first aired in January 29, 2006, will come to a close with Lewis's final case in a two-part film, 'What Lies Tangled'.

The first part aired on Tuesday and the second will air next Tuesday at 9pm.

Oxford City Council leader Bob Price, said: "It's been a great series and has been a great advert for the people of Oxford.

"Of course its sad that it's come to an end but we hope that our city has been encapsulated well for viewers over the course of the last 10 years."

The show was filmed mainly in Oxford, including at the Randolph Hotel and Ashmolean Museum in Beaumont Street and in Exeter College off Turl Street.

Film crew trailers were a regular sight parked at Westgate shopping centre car park off Norfolk Street before it was demolished earlier this year.

Lewis is a spin-off of fellow detective series 'Inspector Morse', also filmed in Oxfordshire.

Kevin Whately's character moved from a support role into the lead role after the show ended in November 2000.

Kevin Whately, 64 said: "I fell incredibly fortunate to have shared a decade of fantastic worldwide success with Laurence and with the most brilliant crew, cast and production team anyone could wish for. Thanks everybody. What a ride it has been!"

His co-star, Laurence Fox, 37, said: "What an extraordinary 10 years. I feel so lucky to have worked with absolutely the best crew in the business on Lewis. I will really miss hanging out with Kev for half the year."

ITV's director of drama, Steve November, said: "It is with great sadness that we say goodbye to Robbie Lewis, one of ITV's most loved and enduring characters.

"We owe Kevin a huge debt of gratitude for nearly 30 fantastic years of Morse and Lewis. We respect Kevin and Laurence's decision not to continue into a further series and wish them the very best whatever comes next."

The second part of 'What Lies Tangled, will be 33rd the episode of the series.

Plans filed to build 140-home estate

A PLANNING application to build 140 homes, cycle routes and roads on land south of High Street in Drayton has been submitted of Vale of White Horse District Council.

The plans were submitted to the council on October 13 and a decision is expected in early 2016.

The development, by Bloor Homes, is included in Drayton's Neighbourhood Plan.

A statement was submitted along with the application by property consultants Savills on behalf of the developers.

It said: "The majority of attendees at the public consultation event supported the proposition of new residential development within Drayton.

"However, concerns were raised about the effects of traffic, particularly with regards to the High Street and Steventon Road/ High Street mini roundabout, and increased flood risk effects on the local sewerage network. These issues are addressed."

The plans were presented to Drayton residents in July.

A consultation on Vale's website launched on October 27 and runs until November 27.

Drayton's Neighbourhood Plan was adopted in March after a referendum by residents of 634 people voting in favour and three against.

• Sarah's route around the world

Worldwide adventurer completes her four year dare-devil odyssey

A ONE-WOMAN Oxfordshire adventurer who battled hurricanes, storms, and desert heat during her cycle, row and kayak around the world completed her epic odyssey on Tuesday after four-and-a-half years.

Sarah Outen, from Chilton, would be the first to admit the experience has been both life-threatening and life-affirming.

Not only has she had to be rescued twice when huge waves threatened to topple her into the Pacific and Altantic, but Sarah also met her fiancé half-way through the adventure.

The 30-year-old MBE crossed the finish line at Midday on Tuesday at London's Tower Bridge where she started out on April 1, 2011.

She said: "There have been quite a few moments when I wasn't sure if I would make out alive. I'm humbled and inspired. It's been an amazing few years.

"At the start, I didn't really consider the kinds of challenges that I would have to face and there has been time when I didn't quite know if I was going to be able to get through it."

By Loughlan Campbell

During the last leg of her 25,000-mile journey Sarah kayaked from Oxford to London, passing through Abingdon and Wallingford on her seven-day trip downriver.

Sarah completed the adventure in several stages, returning to Britain for interludes where she met wife-to-be Lucy Allen, 29, a farmer from Blewbury.

She first kayaked the English Channel before switching a seat for a saddle to cycle across Europe, through Russia, Kazakstan, China and the Gobi Desert, before kayaking and cycling across Japan.

Sarah began her row across the North Pacific Ocean in 2012 but had to be rescued by the Japanese coastguard after Typhoon Mawar whipped up wind speeds of up to 50 knots and 15m high waves.

Sarah added: "The big typhoon in 2012 had such a psychological impact on me and that made me think I had a massive challenge on my hands."

After the typhoon she was taken back to where she was rescued to finish the feat to Alaska, before cycling Canada and America.

Last month while rowing across the North Atlantic Ocean from Cape Cod in to Massachusetts Falmouth in Cornwall a passing cargo ship rescued her from the clutches of Hurricane Joaquin.

On landing in Cornwall Sarah biked to Oxford before switching into a kayak for the finish.

Sarah, who moved from Rutland to Oxfordshire in 2013, said: "Lucy's support played a huge part in me finishing this journey. She's the reason I have such a big grin on my face when I'm in the water."

Sarah's friend Justine Curgenven, 40, from North Wales, kayaked with her and said: "I truly admire her for everything she's done.

"She's so considerate and sends postcards to everyone that has helped her out along the way."

Sarah is writing a book about her travels called 'Dare to do', to be released in June and is considering making a film about the journey from her 'weeks' of filmed footage.

£8,000 scrap metal dealing fine dealt out

A 28-YEAR-OLD man has been fined almost £8,000 for dealing scrap metal without a license.

Anthony Joyce, of Oxford's Redbridge Hollow caravan site, was prosecuted by Vale of White Horse District Council after being stopped by police while carrying scrap metal in October last year.

The council found Joyce was a regular at scrap metal dealers and sold almost £4,000 of scrap metal in less than five months.

While under investigation Joyce was caught carrying scrap metal in Abingdon twice on June 23 and 25.

He pleaded guilty at Oxford Magistrates' Court on October 20 and was fined £7,770.

A criminal behaviour order also imposed bans him from activities including asking for or owning scrap metal, and visiting scrap metal businesses.

Vale cabinet member for environmental health, Roger Cox, said: "Mr Joyce has repeatedly show contempt for the law and the punishment should send a clear message out to anybody looking to deal scrap metal without a licence.

"We'll catch you and prosecute you. The scrap metal act exists to help prevent metal theft, which has been in the news a lot in recent years."

West Way delays amid warning of legal action

By Alex Ballinger

A DECISION on whether to adopt a key planning document setting out how to redevelop West Way shopping centre in Botley has been delayed after campaigners warned it is unlawful.

Solicitors on behalf of the West Way Community Concern group wrote to Vale of White Horse District Council's chief executive David Buckle arguing that the Supplementary Planning Document (SPD) is acting outside its brief.

Council officers recommended councillors delay a decision on the SPD to explore the legal claims, during a Vale cabinet meeting at the council's Milton Park offices on Friday.

In an opening statement Vale cabinet member for planning, Roger Cox, said: "I'm going to propose that we defer this decision. Issues have been raised in the last few days.

"I've been advised by officers that they need more time to consider these issues.

"It does make sense that for us to give the issues they've raised proper consideration."

An SPD is a guideline on planning and development for a particular area.

Vale published a Botley SPD in August earmarking the scale and land to be redeveloped, from Botley Baptist Church in Westminster Way to Field House sheltered Housing in West Way.

But West Way Community Concern's solicitors, Blake Morgan, wrote to the council ahead of Friday's meeting suggesting the SDP is acting more like an Area Action Plan, a document which gives more specific planning policy for an area where significant regeneration needs to be managed.

West Way Community Concern secretary Mary Gill told the Guardian: "What it's trying to do is not an SDP.

"We represent the community - 350 people put in comments on the SPD, most of them objecting.

"That shows how strongly they feel. It's not that we oppose development. We just want the right development."

A previous application by developers Doric Properties for a £100 million development of chain stores and a cinema was rejected by Vale council in December last year.

Developers, Mace, have since taken over plans for the site, which are being drawn up.

Vale's cabinet member for planning policy, Michael Murray, said: "The issues coming forward over the last few days gives us an opportunity to make sure we've taken account of consultation responses."

Mace declined to comment.

Air quality up

OXFORD: Pollution levels on Oxford city centre roads have dropped by 35 per cent on average over the last 10 years, according to a report by Oxford City Council published on Friday.

The annual report found nitrogen dioxide levels in Oxford's High Street and St Aldate's were 10 per cent and 20 per cent lower respectively than figures from 2010.

The air quality is monitored by the council using 70 diffusion tubes dotted around the city, from which data is collected once a year.

City councillor, John Tanner, said: "Air quality is improving right across Oxford largely thanks to cleaner buses, but there are still worrying hotspots in the city centre."

Union fights hospital parking charge plan

By Loughlan Campbell

A UNION is fighting plans unveiled to charge staff, patients and visitors for parking at seven Oxfordshire hospitals.

A staff consultation is underway on plans to install pay and display machines in car parks at Littlemore Mental Heath Centre, Headington's Warneford Hospital and Didcot, Abingdon, Wantage, Wallingford, and Witney community hospitals.

Staff would have to buy parking permits.

But public service union Unison has labelled the move as 'a fine for going to work'.

Unison's area organiser covering Oxfordshire, Mark Pannowitz, said: "We are strongly opposed to this scheme and are campaigning with our members of the hospital to drop these plans.

"It's outrageous that staff are being fined for going to work. With days getting shorter and fewer day light hours, we have serious concerns about the health and safety implications of these proposals

"We are hopeful that management will take the concerns of our members seriously and do the right thing by dropping this proposal."

The hospitals are run by Oxford Health NHS Foundation Trust.

Unison says the permit fees could cost £15 to £200, and staff are being given no guarantees that fees will not rise.

Trust spokesman Alistair Duncan said: "As a trust we pride ourselves on the care we provide our patients but recognise that parking has become a problem at a number of our sites, creating complications for patients and staff alike who are travelling to these sites."

The Trust's response to the staff consultation is due on December 7.

Mr Duncan added that after the staff consultation a public one would be launched on its website.

Oxford East MP Andrew Smith said: "Many staff are struggling already because of the pay restraint alongside escalating accommodation costs in Oxford and the surrounding area, and frequent visits by patients and their families can become very costly at the hospital car parks where payment is already in place.

"I don't have a problem in principle with charges for parking to cover the costs of making parking provision, but once in place there is always the temptation to jack up the prices to generate more income. The John Radcliffe Hospital for example has been reported to make more money from parking fees than any other hospital in the country."

Lucky A34 escape

• One of the four cars involved in the crash

DRIVERS and passengers had a lucky escape from a four-car crash on the A34 in Oxfordshire last Wednesday.

Firefighters, paramedics and police officers helped nine people out of four cars involved in the collision northbound between Bletchingdon and Weston-on-the-Green shortly before 1pm.

There were no serious injuries in the incident and nobody needed to be taken to hospital.

The crash shut the road northbound for about an hour.

Prisoners do not feel safe in Oxfordshire jail, report finds

CONVICTS do not feel safe at an Oxfordshire prison where drug use and overcrowding is on the rise, a report has ruled.

Bullingdon Prison near Bicester was found to carry 'significant risks' by Government chief inspector of prisons, Nick Hardwick.

His report was published last Thursday after an unannounced inspection from June 15 to June 26.

HMP Bullingdon has 1,100 inmates, which puts it 27 per cent over its capacity of 869.

Mr Hardwick said: "The prison felt calm but more prisoners than at the last inspection told us they did not feel safe. The availability of drugs in the prison and the rise in the availability and use of 'Spice', a new psychoactive substance, was a serious threat leading to debt and bullying."

'Spice' is a name given to a synthetic cannabis, reported to be a growing problem in UK prisons.

The report also revealed there were seven deaths in the prison since the last inspection in 2012, five of which were self-inflicted.

Mr Hardwick continued: "Not enough was being done to reduce the risk of further deaths. We were particularly concerned there was still only limited interpreting for newly arrived non-English speaking foreign nation prisoners, despite that being a factor in a recent death."

He said despite overcrowding most inmates were positive about relationships with staff and the general environment was good.

But added: "It is clear that there is a big job to do to improve."

Chief executive of the National Offender Management Service which runs prisons, Michael Spurr, said staff shortages had been a problem.

He added: "Since the inspection, 20 new members of staff have been recruited and progress has accelerated. More prisoners are now taking part in education and training, and the governor has intensified action to tackle supply of psychoactive substances."

Botley retail park revamp approved

BOTLEY: Plans to renovate Seacourt Tower Retail Park in Botley were approved by Vale of White Horse District Council last Wednesday despite receiving 29 letters of objection.

The council's planning committee approved the application at a meeting at The Beacon in Portway, Wantage.

Puzzles

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Dance 'til your shoes wear out

By James Richings

A FOLK group will be making their Bullingdon debut tomorrow.

Quintet, the Keston Cobblers Club, will perform at the Cowley Road venue from 7.30pm on November 6.

The five friends, Tom Sweet, Beth Ecclestone, Matt Lowe, Harry Stasinopoulos and Julia Lowe (Matt's sister) arrive following the release of their second album, 'Wildfire' as part of their tour stopping in Cardiff, Leicester and Bath.

The musicians are confident they will make a good first impression.

"We like to mix it up a little bit and if the crowd is up for a dance, then we'll try and get them dancing, but we like variety in our set," Matt told the Guardian.

"And the new record was inspired by a mixture of things, but mainly just the same as always, as we love playing music and I love writing new music for us to play.

"However, I guess we've added a few more electronic elements to this album, but it's not a massive movement - we like variety as I say and our music has always been a fusion of ideas and this latest album is the continuation of that with a little extra thrown in."

Originally formed in 2009, Keston Cobblers Club was derived from folklore of Keston that Matt was told about while working at a previous job.

According to the myth, an old cobbler started a music club where people would dance until their shoes wore out, which revived his flagging shoe repair business.

This inspired Matt to create the group, who all but Beth come from Keston in Kent.

The current line-up have all been together for the last four years during which the group has released their debut album, their second album and spark a strong following.

"We have amazing fans and a great audience at our gigs and I think the best thing about performing to an audience that appreciates us is the mix between a folky crowd and the unknown," Matt said.

"It's a real fusion and you generally find that people really stop and listen to what we're playing, but they're not afraid to go a little crazy and get involved as well."

The gig costs £11.

Lucy Rose

FOLLOWING a standout performance at Oxfordshire's Truck Festival this year, singer-songwriter Lucy Rose is back in the county.

The 26-year-old from Camberley, arrives at the O2 Academy on Sunday after the release of her second album 'Work it Out' peaked at number nine in the UK album charts.

"I have no idea when my big break arrived as it doesn't feel like there has been one in particular big break," Lucy said.

"However, a gradual build into what is hopefully a long last career, is what I'm aiming for."

After rejecting a place at university, Lucy experimented with music performing in a number of different clubs and bars in London.

It was while doing this that she met Bombay Bicycle Club frontman Jack Steadman.

The two struck up a friendship which saw Lucy sing backing vocals on a number of different Bombay Bicycle Club albums, before she recorded her debut album, 'Like I Used To' in her parents' bedroom in 2012.

Lucy then toured the United States and Canada with the band Noah and the Whale, before performing at festivals such as the Hop Farm Festival, Live at Leeds and Bestival.

Lucy released 'Work It Out' in July this year.

She said she owes her run of success to hard work, determination and a small piece of advice she was dealt.

"The best piece of advice I received when I started my music career was to be patient," she said.

"You must always stay true to yourself and never read anything that is ever written about you.

"And on Sunday, I think most of the set will be the new album so make sure you're brushed up on the songs before the show.

"Also, I would be over the moon if this album did the same so fingers crossed."

Tickets cost £16.87 and doors open at 7pm.

Americana folk brought by The Black Feathers

AMERICANA duo The Black Feathers are releasing their first album in February, after making the step to ditch covers for original self-written tracks.

By James Richings

Sian Chandler and Ray Hughes, from Cirencester, will be performing at The Roastery Café in Oxford's Turl Street next Saturday, November 14.

The pair formed The Black Feathers in 2012.

"We actually spent two or three years playing covers in chatty bars and it was a lot of fun for a while, but it got to a point where it was almost holding us back," Ray told the Guardian.

"We had songs we had to write, and switching between covers and originals proved really difficult.

"So we made the decision to stop the cover shows, and started from scratch with our original material. It was challenging, but a lot of fun."

After releasing their debut EP in October 2013, Sain and Ray battled to become the next big thing on the Americana scene, a genre of contemporary music that includes various American roots music styles including country, roots-rock, folk, bluegrass, R&B and blues.

They won the '5 Valleys Folk award' in Stroud, Gloucestershire, and the following year were handed the 'Folkstock Arts Foundation' award for best live performance.

The Black Feathers first album 'Soaked To The Bone' will be released in February after their new single, 'Down By The River' comes out in December.

Sian said: "The response to the EP was incredible and it was something we never even thought was possible, back when we were playing our first shows selling a little four track demo CD.

"Everyone's been hassling us to release an album, and we're happy to say it's finally coming, early next year."

Their Oxford stop is part of a country-wide tour taking in Brighton in the south to Newcastle in the north.

The gig starts at 8pm and tickets cost £6.

BALLET THEATRE UK: THE SNOW QUEEN

A beautiful re-telling of Hans Christian Andersen's classic fairytale ballet, The Snow Queen. This spectacular production follows the story of Gerda and her quest to find her friend Kay, whom the Snow Queen has placed under an evil spell. Gerda's fantastic adventure takes her on a journey across the frozen north where she encounters a band of gypsy's, enchanted reindeer and a mysterious and reclusive Lapland woman. Fiddles, guitar, accordion, bagpipes and step dancing explode into life as Calan perform songs and tunes from their 2015 release Dinas. Calan bring together the remarkable talents of five young musicians to give a fresh and vibrant sound to traditional Welsh music.
With a contemporary and lively approach, they breathe new life into the old traditions through their sparkling melodies, foot tapping tunes and spirited and energetic performances of Welsh step dancing.

THE CHALLENGING

One of Jacobean England's most monstrous offspring, The Changeling is a psychological thriller that's second to none.
Betrothed to one man but in love with another, Beatrice-Joanna finds a very violent way out of her predicament. But when the servant she bribes to perform the murder asks for her virginity in return the situation quickly escalates into blood and madness.
Ringing with howls, gnashings and hellish torments, this intense production blends original live music, dance and acrobatics into an evening of murderous passion.

PUSSYFOOTING

A young girl squares up to a dragon. A small boy packs away his skirts. An advert tells us what to be at any cost.
Drawing on our culture's wildly varied presentations of women, this is a fearsome journey through society's wild patchwork of performed femininity.
Devised by Knotworks, an exciting new student ensemble, this is a politicised, tender and funny look at modern womanhood in all its forms.
Be warned: despite the name Pussyfooting does not tread lightly.

Taking a look back over five decades following the Japanese car company's expansion to Britain

Honda marks 50 years in the UK

By James Richings

THE UK was a very different place 50 years ago.

The Beatles made music history by performing the first ever stadium concert, children were entertained by shows such as Tom and Jerry and Thunderbirds, cigarette advertising was banned on British TV, the Sound of Music was premiered and Winston Churchill was laid to rest.

And 1965 was also a very important year for Honda, not just as the year of their first Grand Prix win in the RA272 with Ritchie Ginther in Mexico, but as the year the Japanese car manufactures started to trade on British soil.

In the last five decades, Honda has cemented itself as one of the leading motor brands on the planet, and is one of the top-20 biggest brands in the world.

The company employs more than 182,000 employees worldwide and has 40 manufacturing facilities, making everything from 25cc leaf blowers to $4million business jets.

Last year global sales hit 27.3million, made up of 17million motorcycles, six million power products and 4.3million cars.

"This year marks our golden anniversary in the UK with 50 years of rich history in trading bikes, power products and cars," Philip Crossman, managing director at Honda UK, said.

"While this year has been significant in refreshing the car range in its entirety and launching several important new bikes, the Japanese way is to take a much longer viewpoint than just 12 months."

And this year is also the 30th anniversary since Honda set up its first UK manufacturing headquarters called HUM (Honda of the UK Manufacturing).

Based in Swindon employing 3,200 people, HUM has made cars including the Honda Civic, Honda CR-V, Honda Fit and Honda Accord.

It is also the global hub for the production of the new five-door Honda Civic, on sale next year.

But it is their motorcycle division which has made the most impact in the UK market, with a market share of almost 20 per cent across its product range of 65 different models.

Last year alone Honda sold 19,000 bikes in the UK.

"Our business has changed radically over since it launched in the swinging sixties, adapting and evolving to suit the demands of riders and drivers over the years," Phillip said.

"I can well imagine Honda will be a completely different organisation in 2065 – but still selling quality and trusted cars, bikes and power products."

FULL AND PART-TIME COACH DRIVERS REQUIRED

Tappins Coaches has undergone a major transformation over the last 3 years. Our fleet replacement programme is almost complete, with a further 21 new vehicles on order for delivery early in the New Year. As a result we are looking to strengthen our Didcot-based driving team.

We are looking for experienced, smart, flexible, and customer-focused professionals. Our work includes home-to-school transport, rail replacement, express service, corporate charter and multi-day touring, both in the UK and mainland Europe. The amount of stage carriage work currently undertaken is very small, so applicants from that background will need to demonstrate a clear desire and ability to quickly adapt.

The current rate of pay (including merit bonus) is £12.00 per hour, and you will be entitled to 34 days annual leave. All full-time drivers are guaranteed 160 hours per 4-weekly pay period.

If you have other commitments which mean you are unable to work on a full-time basis, we have a large volume of home-to-school, evening and weekend work which we could offer you on a part-time or casual basis.

Please contact us on: 01235 519412 or email your details to: simon@tappins.co.uk

PLANNING ACTS

Notice of publication of proposed East Hagbourne Neighbourhood Plan Town and Country Planning (General) Neighbourhood Planning Regulations amended 2015 and Localism Act 2011.

Name of proposed Neighbourhood Area
East Hagbourne

Subject matters
East Hagbourne Parish Council (as a relevant body) has submitted proposals to undertake an East Hagbourne Neighbourhood Plan. The proposed area follows the parish boundary of East Hagbourne (as of April 2015). You can view the details of the area proposed and confirmation of this statement by visiting: www.southoxon.gov.uk/neighbourhoodplans and clicking on the East Hagbourne link.

The neighbourhood plan is a way for the town or parish council to help shape how their community develops over the coming years. This is not a formal consultation on the neighbourhood plan, merely the identification of the potential area where the plan is to cover.

View the consultation documents
Copies of the neighbourhood plan application are available to view at the district council offices (135 Eastern Avenue, Milton Park, Milton, OX14 4SB) Monday – Thursday 9.00 am – 5.00 pm and Friday 9.00 am – 4.30 pm, East Hagbourne Parish Council offices (76 Evenlode Drive, Didcot, Oxon OX11 7XQ) and online using the link above.

How to respond
We are opening a four week publication period on the application. This starts from Thursday 5 November 2015 to Thursday 3 December 2015. This is an opportunity to comment on the proposed area.

You can comment using our online consultation system, by visiting https://consult.southandvale.gov.uk/portal/south/planning/pol/np/. If you have not already done so, you will need to register to use our system.

Alternatively you can send comments through to planning.policy@southoxon.gov.uk or via post Planning Policy, South Oxfordshire District Council, 135 Eastern Avenue, Milton Park, Milton OX14 4SB.

The council will use the comments to decide whether the area submitted for the joint plan is suitable or not. Please be aware that all comments received will be made available to the public to view.

Medals galore for Oxon in the taekwondo championships

By Loughlan Campbell

SOUTH Oxfordshire-based Oxfordshire Taekwondo cleaned up in the finals of the P.U.M.A (Professional Unification of Martial Arts) Junior Championships on October 11.

The competition, which is one of the UK's largest taekwondo association championships, saw the team's 15 children perform admirably across the board.

Golds were won in sparring and in patterns by 13-year-old Isobel Hodson from East Hanney and 14-year-old Thomas Hadland from Didcot.

Miss Hodson, who trains at the team's Grove base, had also won two golds in the P.U.M.A Northern Championships in September.

More medals were won on the day by Didcot's Aaron Goddard, 9, who collected a silver and bronze medal.

In addition to his achievements, Joel Titchener, 10, won a gold and silver medal, Amelia Richardson, 8, won a gold and silver, as well as seven-year-old Isobela Goddard collecting a gold medal.

Oxfordshire Taekwondo instructor Ciaran McDonald, said: "I am so proud of my students. To go there and compete at such a young age is highly commendable but to then come away with a clutch of medals is just amazing!

"Their achievements are all down to the hard work and determination that they've executed in their learning."

Female F1 test driver set to retire

WILLIAMS MARTINI RACING's Susie Wolff is set to retire from Formula One and motorsport following the conclusion of the 2015 F1 season.

Susie, from Oban in Scotland, was promoted as the Grove-based team's official test driver for the 2015 season after being appointed as a development driver in April 2012.

Her time at Williams has seen her play a role in the development of the team's F1 cars, such as the FW35, FW36 and FW37 through extensive similar work.

Wolff, 32, drove the FW36 during first practice at the 2014 British and German Grand Prix's, becoming the first female driver to drive in a Grand Prix weekend for two decades.

She said: "I'd like to thank Williams for the opportunity they have given me over the last few years which has allowed me to achieve my dream of driving a Formula 1 car.

"It has been great to work with everyone at the team, both at Grove and trackside, and I'd like to thank everyone who have been part of my journey at Williams.

"I am closing this chapter but looking forward to new challenges in the future."

One point after anonymous race

By Adam Flinn

LOTUS F1 had an unspectacular race as Formula One returned to Mexico for the first time in 23 years, collecting only one point for their efforts on Sunday.

Romain Grosjean came 10th with team-mate Pastor Maldonado less than a second behind in 11th, although neither featured heavily during the race.

Grosjean started 12th on the grid and like everyone else made up a place as Sebastian Vettel's Ferrari fell to the back with a puncture.

He pitted early and benefitted from the safety car to clear away Vettel's crashed car to stop again on lap 52, holding off his team-mate to pick up a solitary point for 10th.

"It's good to score, even if it was only one point!" said Grosjean.

"The car was good on medium tyres, less so on softs, and it was a long race and not easy as there was a lot to manage.

"This weekend was all about finding the grip and the track was definitely improving massively throughout the race – I think next year will be even more fun to drive once the grip has improved."

Maldonado saw his run of three race finishes in the points come to an end, although he was only 0.6 of a second behind Grosjean at the end.

The Venezuelan also survived a late scare on lap 65 when he came perilously close to chucking his Lotus into the barriers, but survived to make the finish.

He said: "Our race was pretty good and it was great to cross the finish line to so many cheers and still pushing hard to pass Romain, though I would have preferred to be in front.

• Pastor Maldonado's point-scoring run came to an end in Mexico (picture courtesy of Lotus F1)

"I expected to struggle more with the brakes, but everything was under control so I'm disappointed not to be in the points after what was a strong race from us.

"I missed a braking point at turn 12 late on, but my battle to beat him was lost through traffic in the pits."

Grosjean is 11th in the championship standings with 45 points, while Maldonado is back in 14th on 26 points.

The next race in the Brazil – the penultimate round of the season – is on November 15.

Club captain Cattell takes reins in Freds nightmare

WANTAGE Town have appointed first-team captain and defender Stuart Cattell as interim manager at the club following the resignation of Daniel Barry after a year in charge.

Cattell was appointed on Tuesday and will supported by first-team coach Graham Lee and U18's manager, Ben Whitehead.

Barry departed the club with immediate effect following the club's 3-0 defeat at Wimborne Town on Saturday.

A statement released by the club on Monday, read: "Wantage Town FC have accepted the resignation of their first team manager, Daniel Barry.

"The club thanks Daniel for the hard work and solid service that he has given the club during his periods of office as reserve team and first team manager."

Barry was appointed in October last year, replacing Gary Ackling as former chairman Tony Woodward quit due to personal reasons.

The former manager said at the time that when he inherited the role the club would have to deal with budget cuts.

Barry picked up the reins for Wantage with the club in 18th position and he now leaves the club in 19th position, level on points with Bridgwater Town, who are in the relegation places.

Cattell's first test as manager will be up against Bishops Cleeve on Saturday in the league.

Super United thrash Stevenage

RYAN Taylor fired a brace as Oxford went second in a pummelling 5-1 win over nine-man Stevenage.

A Liam Sercombe penalty and goals from Alex MacDonald and Kemar Roofe rounded out the scoring with Sercombe missing a penalty when the game was goalless.

Michael Appleton's men ran rampant from the off, with Roofe and MacDonald causing Stevenage all sorts of problems in the box.

United went in front after Sercombe hammered a shot at a goal before flicking over the deflection in to the feet of Ryan Taylor who put Oxford in front from six yards after thirteen minutes.

The home side soon struck back after 'keeper Sam Slocombe made a defensive error and Chris Whelpdale knocked the ball in.

Sercombe then drew a penalty two minutes later after Dean Parrett's sliding tackle but the impressive midfielder's effort was saved, however, Sercombe then demanded to take another spot kick after Roofe was brought down nine minutes later and made no mistake from the spot.

Jamie McCombe was sent off from the challenge and in the second half Oxford ran rampant with MacDonald slicing home on 65 minutes and Michael Tonge saw red for Stevenage.

Taylor then added a third for United with a header in off the bar and Roofe then rounded out the scoring, firing home from 20 yards to cement the win.

Smith aims to finish 2016 on a high

BRADLEY Smith says he's prepared for a 'memorable' finish to the MotoGP Championship season in Valencia on Sunday.

The Oxford rider will head out for the season's conclusion at the Gran Premio Motul de la Comunitat Valenciana, aiming to close the season with a strong result and secure sixth position.

The Monster Yamaha Tech3 is likely to cement his status as the leading satellite rider of 2015, with the Briton coming off the back of his 4th place finish in Malaysia.

He said ahead of the race: "I can't wait to get going at Valencia where I fully intend to close this incredible year with a good result.

"My main objective is to finish inside the top six so that I can clinch sixth in the standings, this will be super for me and testament to how hard me and my team have all worked in 2015.

"The event is bound to be a memorable one and we definitely need to hit the ground running. As far as I know the event is sold out and the grandstands will be packed, which will be great to see, therefore I am really looking forward to this last challenge."

Stars earn mixed bag at the weekend

OXFORD City Stars endured a topsy-turvey weekend after they obtained a win over Chelmsford Chieftains on Saturday before suffering defeat to Streatham Redskins on Sunday.

The Stars started their clash with the Chieftains well, with Alan Green, Josh Florey and Boris Ruzicka netting for the hosts in the first period.

Chelmsford came roaring back in the second period with Connor Ranby beaten in goal in the 25th minute however, the Stars then went further in front through Alan Green.

Josh Oliver put Oxford further in front early on in third period before the Chieftain's Cameron Bartlett netted his team's second after his penalty was deflected back into his path and he slotted home.

Bartlett then netted again for Chelmsford however Oxford soon put the game to bed with Ben Ealey-Newman netting to seal the 6-4 win.

The Stars then travelled down to South London to take on the Redskins, with Adam Wood, a double from John Johnston and a Dom Hopkins goal gave the home side a commanding 4-0 lead.

Ealey-Newman managed to get the Stars onto the scoreboard, after Alan Green set him up and they pulled the score back to 4-3 through Ondrej Pekarik and Florey.

However, the Redskins sealed the win in the third period with Kamil Kinkor firing home to seal the 5-3 win despite Oxford's valiant efforts.

Millers return to table summit

By Loughlan Campbell

A first-half blitz from North Leigh secured a 2-0 win at Shortwood United for the Millers on Tuesday to go level on points with the league leaders.

Mark Gee's side went level with Cinderford Town after securing the win, with both sides riding high in the Southern League Division One South & West on 31 points.

The Millers' win saw them recover from three successive defeats, twice to Cinderford, once in the league and once in the cup and a defeat to promotion rivals Winchester City who are four points behind them and have a game in hand.

In the enthralling encounter, the first fifteen minutes were dominated by the home side, with Shortwood unlucky to not beat James Foster on several occasions.

Marley Thomas, Liam Meredith and Ross Staley all came close for Shortwood, but try as they might, they could not bulge the Leigh net.

However, the luck soon turned in the Millers' favour, with Morgan William's corner almost turned in by Callum McNish but then minutes later, North Leigh repeated the same move and McNish's effort found the corner of the net.

Jake Lee then fired over for United before Wayne Turk then nearly turned a Thomas cross into his own net.

On the half hour mark, North Leigh then stretched their lead through another set piece as Williams fired in another corner and Lewis White got his head onto the ball to power it past Tom King.

The second half saw both sides look to dominate possession and Andy Lewis had to be forced into heading over his own bar from a North Leigh cross.

Jon Else then had an effort tipped over for the Millers before Lee's shot was forced wide by Foster in the final stages, with North Leigh holding on to their first win in four games.

Up next for Gee's side is a home fixture in the Southern League Division One South and West against Evesham United on Saturday.
